

Proposed budget calls for tax cut, more spending

ALBANY — The proposed city budget, calling for a 22-cent tax cut while including an additional $1 million in expenditures, will be considered in detail by the Albany City Council during four meetings next week.

Budget sessions will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, before the regular council meeting; at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday; at 7:30 p.m. June 16 and at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, June 18.

All the budget sessions will be held at the city hall except next Tuesday (June 14) which could be either at the city hall or the senior center. The decision will be announced this week.

More meetings will be held in succeeding weeks.

City Administrator James Turner Monday read the outlines of the proposed new budget which could cut the tax rate from $2.04 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.77. The budget increase, about $1 million to a total of $5.6 million, would be possible due to increased federal and state financing, he said.

In other business, the council:

—Was urged to more closely monitor the activities at the Albany landfill which appear to be detrimental to the future conversion to a marina with restaurants and open space.

Ray Redel, Waterfront

Committee chairman, called for an inspection and instructions to the landfill operator.

—Decided to oppose the re-location of the Berkeley Post Office processing center to Oakland.

—Learned that another $56,000 in federal funds is becoming available for hiring more city employees under the CETA program.

However, this is only part of the $174,000 originally offered for "Round 2" of the program.

—Heard Mrs. Odessa Shavers criticize the "juvenile carnival" atmosphere of council meetings and an alleged lack of leadership.

—Referred to Police Chief James Simmons an application by Lee Loosen of Berkeley to sell pistols, revolvers and other firearms within the city limits.

—Discussed the problems of street sweeping, where parked cars make efficient sweeping impossible.

Council supports Turner recommendation

By NORMAN COLBY
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — A new ordinance strengthening the city administrator's position — urged by James Turner in his resignation letter — appears to be favored by the entire city council.

At the same time, the council's majority members are urging top speed in moving ahead with obtaining a new administrator replacing Turner who was forced to resign.

And they are denying recurrent rumors that the next city administrator will be Richard Clark, former councilman and mayor who quit in order to retain his BART director post.

"I have no one in mind," Mayor Joyce Jackson said at Monday night's council meeting.

The council's future adoption of a new law will be an admission that Turner has been hampered for many years by the existing ordinance which does not allow him to take the initiative in hiring, disciplining and removing city employees.

However, the council's eagerness to grant additional powers to the future city administrator is not aimed at helping Turner who will be gone June 30 or soon afterwards.

They have been told by Turner and the League of California Cities' representative Wes McClure that few qualified persons would be interested in the post while it is the "weakest" city administrator in California, vacant because of the predecessor's forced resignation.

During a workshop last night, McClure explained the new proposals, which Turner assured the council would remedy the long-standing problem.

The council members seemed to prefer the portions which allow the city administrator to "appoint, suspend, discipline and/or remove" all city employees, except that appointment and removal of department heads would require "consent" of the city council.

Of course, none of this applies to elected department heads, such as police chief, city attorney and city treasurer.

The existing law denies the city administrator any right to take the initiative, allowing him to act only "when directed" by the council.

McClure also recommended a 90-day period after each city council election when the administrator could be removed only by unanimous vote, insuring "greater stability." And severance would be accompanied by an additional three-month's salary.

Mayor Jackson commented, "This would answer the need... the administrative officer needs the tools."

Councilman Lewis Howell expressed his preference for a method where the administrator would hire and fire, with council consent needed for action affecting department heads.

Councilman Robert Luoma offered no objections, while Councilman Mike Gleason was absent.

Luoma, however, did object to what he considered undue haste in the search for a new administrator, before the new ordinance is formulated and adopted.

Mayor Jackson replied, "Time is of the essence" and plans were made for conferring with consultant Norman Roberts of Korn Ferry International within a few days.

During the regular council meeting, Jerry Corniola, representing the Teamsters Local No. 78, with members employed at Golden Gate Fields, announced his organization's "appreciation" of City Administrator Turner, also of Councilmen Howell and Luoma for their support of Turner during the current controversy.

Barbara Brown, however, told the council that the recall movement against Mrs. Jackson, Griffin and Gleason is making it more difficult to obtain information from the door-to-door survey about elderly needs.

Call was a member of the city council at the time.

He is an owner of Call Bros. Jewelers in Albany.

Call was convicted March 5 in an Oakland courtroom by an all-woman jury of two counts of the felony charges.

He was sentenced to from one to five years in state prison and fined $5,000. Currently, he is free under $10,000 bail pending exhaustion of appeal procedures.

The charges stemmed from his making purchases of jewelry from an undercover agent after the lawman told him the goods "were ripped off in the LA area."

Section 6253.5 of the Government Code was quoted as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 6252 and 6253, statewide, county, city and district initiative, referendum, and recall petitions, and all memoranda prepared by the county clerk in the examination of such petitions indicating which registered voters have signed particular petitions shall not be deemed to be public records and shall not be open to inspection except by the public officer or public employees who have the duty of receiving, examining or preserving such petitions or who are responsible for the preparation of such memoranda."

Mrs. Dempster said the above documents are available for inspection in her office at any time.

A mutually fruitful Japan, Albany exchange

ALBANY — To see your own country through the eyes of another is an interesting experience for us all.

Recently, Kathy Enos, Albany High School senior, just returned from a year's stay in Japan under the auspices of the American Field Service, and Keiko Ishitoku, ending her year as an AFS exchange student from Japan at Albany High, voiced their views about their host countries.

When asked about their first impressions upon entering the host country, both girls agreed they had difficulty adapting to the new language and customs.

Said Keiko, "Before I came here, I was standing on Japanese customs and ways of thinking. I had to change to become more open-minded. I had to look at things in a different way, and this has been wonderful for me."

Kathy said she felt confused at first because she didn't know what to expect from different situations. "I learned to accept people for themselves. I also learned to see that things could get done in different ways. I learned patience."

The schools in Japan and America presented a contrast noted by both girls. As Kathy said, "School was a real eye opener." A formal atmosphere pervades the school setting in Japan. Class begins and ends with students bowing to the teacher.

Students wear uniforms, and there are many more pupils in a classroom. The basic subjects are taught, and American classes like band and print shop are clubs. Classes are held weekdays plus a half day on Saturday. Five pairs of shoes are needed for specific activities.

"The biggest thing about school," said Kathy, "was that after school, we changed into our P.E. clothes, and went to our assigned cleaning jobs at the school: at the beginning and middle of each semester, we had a big cleaning day."

That class "just starts and ends" in the United States was, at first, difficult for Keiko to realize, since she was accustomed to bowing to the teacher as a signal to begin and end. Keiko thinks "School is more relaxing here. In Japan, only teachers talk, but here, students get to participate."

Keiko felt that, in Japan, pupils must "study, study, study," but Kathy said her Japanese "sister" spent about the same amount of time as many Albany students do.

Fish and rice are staples in the Japanese diet. Beef is very expensive in Japan, and both girls enjoy its abundance here. Keiko expressed delight in the American favorite, ice cream is really nice, so many flavors, it's not expensive, and so good."

Interestingly, each girl said she got more vegetables in her home country, and each thought "junk" foods and fried foods were more readily available in the other's country.

Keiko was impressed with "the number of resident races in Albany and the Bay Area. Japan has many foreign travelers, but most residents are Japanese."

Kathy agreed, and said, "I really couldn't go out without being noticed. People knew I was an American, and they would say how nice it would be to live in America, as though it were a life dream. Just being there, I really had the feeling of 'I am an American.' I had more of a sense of patriotism than ever before, and I stopped taking things

Cornell, Marin kids performing 'Pirates'

ALBANY — Third through fifth grade students of Cornell and Marin schools are presenting four abridged performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," under the direction of Verna Snapper.

The first two are scheduled for 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. today at Marin School, 1001 Santa Fe Ave. The other two performances will be at 9 and 10 a.m. Friday at Cornell School, 920 Talbot Ave.

The public is welcome to attend the free programs.

Featured in leading roles of the production are Dennis Wolf, as the pirate king; Mary Jackson, as Ruth; David McGaw, as Frederick; Jenny Stadler and Sharon Hays as Mabel, Wednesday and Friday, respectively, and Pieter Snapper, as the Major General.

Loni Abbott is costume designer for the production and the scenery was arranged by Marylee Saxton's Room 13 class. Mrs. Snapper is providing piano accompaniment for the performances.

Heirloom lost in hosiery box

ALBANY — The return of a family-heirloom necklace that inadvertently wound up at a Safeway store in a hosiery exchange will bring "a substantial reward," according to its chagrined owner.

Mrs. Edward Donald, of 1072 Neilson St., related a sad series of events that led to the loss of the butterfly-shaped diamond and opal necklace, and heirloom handed down from her grandmother.

"In November of 1975 I took the necklace out of our safety deposit box because I wanted my son's bride to wear it at their wedding," she said. "When there was a delay in the wedding, instead of putting the necklace back in the safe deposit box I put it away in a hosiery box containing a 'two for 99 cents' Safeway stocking special."

"Several months later," she continued, "I found the hosiery box and, forgetting I'd put the necklace in it, had my husband exchange the stockings for support hose. Just the other day my husband told me the necklace wasn't in the safety deposit box and I realized what I'd done."

Mrs. Donald realizes that it's a longshot, but she's hoping someone who discovered the necklace in the hosiery box will contact her by phone at 525-8693.

Seniors to read from own works

ALBANY — A public reading by students of Marcy Alancraig's creative writing class at the Albany Senior Citizens Center will be held at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 15, at the Center, 846 Masonic Ave.

Seven seniors will share stories and tales about their lives written for the class. The works range from adventures in early childhood to what it feels like to be elderly today.

A mimeographed booklet of the works read will be available at the reading. This will be the first public reading for most members of the class. Many had not written at all before the two-month class began.

Ms. Alancraig is a CETA Community Artist with the Alameda County Neighborhood Arts Program. The class meets Mondays from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and is open to all seniors. Contact Ms. Alancraig at 526-1684 for more details.

'If in doubt, re-register'

ALBANY — "If in doubt, it is best to re-register," City Clerk Patricia A. Dempster advised local voters today.

Those required to re-register, she said, include persons who failed to vote in the last general election held in November, 1976, persons who have moved within the last 30 days and anyone who has changed his or her name.

Persons can register to vote at the office of the city clerk, City Hall, 1000 San Pablo Ave., between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays, and at the Fire Department in the early evening hours and weekends.

City clerk cites codes

No public inspection of petitions

ALBANY — City Clerk Patricia A. Dempster, noting she has received a number of questions regarding the statement in last week's Times that names of recall petitions were not open to public inspection, today sought to eliminate any confusion by quoting from the Elections and Government codes.

Elections Code, Section 27300, was cited as follows:

"The clerk, or in the case of the recall of a State officer, the Secretary of State, shall preserve in his office all recall petitions filed for eight months after the certification of the results of the election for which the petition qualified, or if no election is held, eight months after the clerk's final examination of the petition.

"Public access to any such petition shall be restricted in accordance with provisions of Section 6253.5

of the Government Code."

Section 6253.5 of the Government Code was quoted as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 6252 and 6253, statewide, county, city and district initiative, referendum, and recall petitions, and all memoranda prepared by the county clerk in the examination of such petitions indicating which registered voters have signed particular petitions shall not be deemed to be public records and shall not be open to inspection except by the public officer or public employees who have the duty of receiving, examining or preserving such petitions or who are responsible for the preparation of such memoranda."

Mrs. Dempster said the above documents are available for inspection in her office at any time.

Turner rejects attempts to keep him administrator

By ROBERT KROLL
I-G Staff Writer
ALBANY — City Administrator James Turner has spurned efforts to keep him in the post from which he has been fired.

City councilman Robert Luoma last week put forth a motion, at the suggestion of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, that Turner be urged to reconsider his resignation which is effective June 30.

Before Luoma's motion could receive a second, Turner turned solemnly to the council and said:

"I have submitted my resignation and it has been duly accepted by the city council. Now let's get on with city business."

The chamber sent a letter to the council calling

Turner's recent resignation, which Mayor Joyce Jackson has conceded was requested, "a shock." The letter, dated May 27, pointed to many projects which were implemented during Turner's administration, and described Turner as "irreplaceable as far as Albany is concerned."

Dario Meniketti, a regular council observer, addressed the meeting and discounted the chamber's contentions, saying that the projects mentioned were accomplished "through the hard work of citizens."

On a related issue, Janis Mulhall, a leader in the drive to recall the mayor and city council members Michael Gleason and Patrick Griffin, (the three in the majority who favored Turner's dismissal), complained bitterly that she was mistreated and misinformed by the city treasurer's office.

The incident involved her application for a tax exempt business license to solicit funds for the recall campaign.

Ms. Mulhall said city treasurer Ellen Zapata last week told her she would have to provide the names and addresses of all petition circulators, but that after considerable discussion and consultations with the city clerk, Ms. Zapata issued the license, with the names of the solicitors only, but warned her it could be "revoked any time." She charged her civil rights had been violated.

Ms. Zapata said there had been a misunderstanding about the requirements of disclosure under the city ordinance which she said is in conflict with state election code. She denied using the word "revoke," and said she issued the license as quickly as she could.

Mayor Jackson said the incident, while unfortunate, was not a violation of civil rights, but merely a matter of a misunderstanding which had been cleared up.

The council, by 3-2 vote (councilmen Luoma and Howell voting "no"), voted to retain the firm of Korn-Ferry and Associates of San Francisco, an executive recruiter, to aid in the search for Turner's successor.

Councilman Howell complained that he was "not at the noon meeting when that was discussed," suggesting that the council majority had met secretly, in violation of the Brown Act, to choose an executive recruiter.

After the council session, both Gleason and Mayor Jackson confirmed there was a meeting, but Gleason denied that city business was conducted.

In other city business, the council:

—Conducted a public hearing on the Special Area Plan for a portion of Albany Hill, then referred the plan to the Planning and Zoning Commission for hearings on possible amendments to the general plan.

The committee which drafted the plan told the council it had not meant the plan to result in amendments to the general plan, but rather as a means of implementing provisions of the plan.

—Granted a tax exempt business license to Rev. Yumiko Tsuyama of the Church of Perfect Liberty in Oakland to solicit donations for raffle tickets. Councilman Luoma, who voted against the tax exempt status, warned that the activity could constitute gambling unless the tickets were available for free.

HONORED PAIR — Bill Gilbreath, left, and Lawrence Hughes, Albany Adult School principal, congratulate each other on their selection as Honorary Service Award recipients by the Albany PTA Council. The awards were based on Gilbreath's long service to Boy Scouts in Albany and Hughes' continued work with the PTA and youth groups. Donations to the California State PTA scholarship and loan fund were given in their names by the local PTA council, and each man received an emblem and certificate symbolizing his service.

Friends of KMPX to hold house party

ALBANY — The Friends of KMPX will hold the first in a series of benefit house parties this Sunday from 3:30 p.m. on in the 806 Washington St. home of Don MacLeod here. The public is invited.

A $4 donation at the door will help generate funds for the campaign to save the San Francisco FM station (107 on the dial) and its "big band era" format. Food and refreshments will be served and entertainment will be provided by Mannie Funk's Casa Bonita Jazz Band.

KMPX is the only Northern California station to exclusively program music and rare original recordings of the 1920s through the big band and jazz era of the 1940s. It is currently subject to a complicated estate trustee sale which would see its license transferred to KEAR FM, which in turn would transfer its license to CBS Radio.

CBS would then sell its existing license.

The KMPX Listeners' Guild has retained an attorney and filed a petition with the Federal Communications Commission effectively blocking the license transfer pending a hearing in Washington, D.C. The guild's position is that it does not oppose the station sale per se but feels KMPX's unique sound should be preserved.

in our country for granted." Kathy continued, "Japanese people were surprised how much I liked Japan. There is a sense of beauty in the gardens, flower arranging, cooking, pottery, and empty spaces."

After a year, were the girls ready to go home? Both emphatically said no. Kathy will pursue her Japanese language study when she enters Cal in the fall, her Japanese "sister" will be coming to spend a year with her beginning in August, and one day, she hopes to return to Japan to work.

Keiko will be leaving Albany on June 24, and she will be leaving a year of "wonderful change for me."

Times Hometown news

"It's the only job I've ever had and after 40 years I'm sorry to quit it," Albany's William R. Millard ruefully commented on his retirement as a Southern Pacific engineer.

When Millard made his final trip on Train 13 from San Luis Obispo to Oakland Friday night, it meant the end of a 102-year tradition of Millards at the right side of the cab.

His grandfather, William H. Millard, joined SP in 1875 and engineered until 1917. William R.'s father, George E. Millard, joined the profession in 1902, working between Rocklin and Wadsworth, Nev., and keeping the tradition going until his son got into the act in February of 1937.

William R. Millard and his wife, Velma, have three children, including two school-teaching daughters and a son, William, who as a member of the Air Force stationed at Camp Beale is in no position to keep the "Casey Jones" tradition alive. The oldest daughter, Marcia, lives and teaches in Frederick, Md., while the other, Kathleen, does likewise in Rye, N.Y.

The Millards plan to spend some of William's retirement visiting their far-flung family, which also includes three granddaughters and one grandson.

The local chapter of the American Field Service will bid farewell to Keiko Ishitusuka, of Japan, and Evald Jensen, of Denmark, current exchange students at Albany High, at a reception in their honor this Sunday.

The affair is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. in the creek-side home of Jack and Alice Murrow, 4 Carmel Ave., El Cerrito.

Friends are invited to wish these two young people well as they return to their home countries.

Marco Meniketti, a member of Albany High's class of 1972, has just completed a year of graduate study in education at UC-Berkeley and will receive credentials in both social science and life science.

He completed the year with a perfect 4.0 grade point average.

Marco received his bachelor of arts degree in anthropology from UC last year. As a senior, he maintained a near-perfect 3.85 grade point average and was coxswain for the varsity crew which went on to win the national championship in Syracuse, N.Y. He also was a competitor in the small boat division in the Olympic Games trials.

Marco hopes to do his teaching in the Bay Area.

A well-rounded program will be offered Monday through Friday, including cooking, arts and crafts, story time, simple wake-up exercises, special days, indoor and outdoor structured games, Albany Library book activities, nature study, cookouts, hiking and beach exploring.

Albany Legions split pair with Berkeley

Albany, Berkeley and El Cerrito American Legion baseball squads opened their league seasons with weekend splits in four thrilling contests which were decided by a total of six runs.

Albany edged Berkeley, 8-6, in the opener of Sunday's doubleheader before dropping the nightcap, 2-1, on Shooty Babitt's sixth-inning home run off Berkeley High teammate Jeff Ransom.

El Cerrito showed a sharp contrast in its two games. The club journeyed to Napa, where it dropped a 10-9 decision Saturday, before bouncing back for a 2-0 home victory over Vallejo yesterday.

Mike Ramirez pitched hitless relief and Sandy Odisio belted a two-run homer in the five-run sixth as Albany won its Legion opener. Sterling Jones had a two-run homer for Berkeley.

Babitt missed the first game while attending

North-South All-Star tryouts at Cal, but showed up to give Berkeley the win in the nightcap. Walter Seuell had four hitless innings for the win. Albany's John Luty had four hits and six stolen bases in the pair.

El Cerrito got a three-run homer from Vic Woods and a two-run shot from Ken Harris in its Napa loss, but Tim Castle and Lem Sneed combined for a two-hit shutout in shackling Vallejo.

Ron Harper and Joe Souza accounted for the E.C. offense. Harper singled, advanced on an error and scored on Souza's single in the first. Harper's walk, Steve McDonald's sacrifice and Souza's single made it 2-0 in the third.

Libby shoots 4-game 826

By PHIL ALSTON
Gordon Libby fired an 826 four-game set and Eddie Burcher 810 to pace the scoring in the 535 Scratch Trios League at Albany Bowl. Libby's cluster included games of 235 and 222 while Burcher had 210 and 222.

In the same league Les Eiedlinger was a model of consistency with 190-199-191-190 for 770.

Paul Pillow fashioned a 607 series on 178-219-210 as he and Mike Sousa won the first month's qualifying play in the Greater Bay Area Summer Doubles tournament with 1,125-246-1,371.

Their total put them one pin ahead of Alice Glanville and Donna McDonald, who had posted 1,370 earlier. A total of 10 doubles teams will represent Albany Bowl in the tournament finals at Cloverleaf Bowl in Fremont later this month.

Carmen McKines topped the Jubilee Mixed scoring with a 570 series that featured a 209 game. In addition, her 540 set helped Brass Rail Fives move into third place in the C division standings of the Alameda County Women's Bowling Association tournament with 2,272.

Bill James and Frank Spicer did the heavy hitting in the Volney Morrison Memorial League. James hit a 214 game in the course of his 586 series while Spicer had 200—583.

An opening game of 146 didn't discourage Sylvia Ahlquist, who came back with 204 and 201 to lead the Gin Mill Fives with 551. Avery Carter's 534 was high for Nevada Tahoe Tours League and Carl Hendrix pitched 538 for Albany Travelers.

Vicki Dunham's 201 game and 538 series helped the Nevada Tahoe Tours team take over first place in the ACVBA tournament's B division standings with 2,356-136-2,492.

Lions Club, Astros take 1st half titles

ALBANY — Jimmy Howard clouted a home run to help the Lions Club Cardinals beat the Berkeley Cycle Braves, 9-5, and gain first half supremacy in the Albany Little League majors.

Daniel Soso was the winning pitcher.

In the Senior League, the Astros nosed out the Phils, 5-4, in a 10-inning struggle to take the first half title in that bracket.

The Baskin-Robbins Red Sox got off to a fast second half start in the minors by defeating the Lou's Chevron Orioles and the Ellis-Olson Athletics.

The Red Sox have two coaches with a combined 27 years in the league: Sal Torres with 15 and Vern Silva with 12.

Said Torres, "It's important for the players to feel that their parents are taking a great interest in the team and the parents seem to enjoy watching their youngsters develop new skills."

champions last year and Dan Augustine, Groose and Barranco won National Jr. AAU titles.

"Considering it's a small club and non-profit, we've had tremendous success," said Augustine. "It took us about eight years to build a good nucleus, but now we're placing from 50 to 75 percent of our members in Bay Area competition, which is the strongest in the United States."

"Five out of the last six National AAU championships have been won by the Bay Area team," he added.

Augustine, whose regular job is supervisor for the Marin County Adult Probation Department, is a member of the United States Olympic Committee board of directors, vice chairman of the AAU Judo Committee and a delegate to the World Judo Congress.

He also is a past president of the Pacific Association of the AAU and has held numerous other area posts.

He said he feels the Albany YMCA Judo Club is "very definitely" on the verge of producing Olympic contenders.

The team works out regularly Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Albany Y, 921 Kains Ave., and visitors are always welcome.

The fast-rising success of the club has had its drawbacks financially. In order to cover such expenses as sending qualifiers to various competitions, the team members have been collecting newspapers and bottles, but Augustine sees much tougher fund-raising problems ahead as more of his athletes crash into the national judo picture.

Water conservation kits still available

ALBANY — The Albany Fire Department still has some water conservation kits available for anyone needing them.

They may be obtained free of charge at the fire station.

Albany 'Y' Judo Club puts eight in nationals

ALBANY — Coach Mel Augustine's Albany YMCA Judo Club team has qualified eight members to compete in the U.S. Judo Championships to be held July 1 and 2 at the University of San Francisco gym.

Only four of the 12 Albany judokas failed to qualify for the national event in Northern California. Judokas held recently at the San Francisco Judo Club.

Augustine's two sons, Dan, 11, and Dan, 14, were among the qualifiers. Glen, one of six Albany winners in the eliminations, topped the 11-year-old heavyweight field.

RECREATIVE LEISURE — Joe Riggio, of 1127 Brighton Ave., had a pleasant trip home to Albany from the San Pablo Reservoir after landing this morning, 4 1/2-ounce rainbow trout on egg bait. People's Hitomura Sinagawa caught the prize winner, 17-pound, 14 1/2-ounce beauty, in the recent annual Fishing Derby, but there was nothing trivial about Joe's haul.

The Editor
Dear Sir:

This is an open letter to the Albany Police Department to commend them on their fine work for the citizens of this city.

I know I speak for most of the residents of our section of Jackson Street when I say that we greatly appreciate the time and effort that Chief of Police James Simmons, Capt. Melvin Boyd and all of their men put out in order to bring back some of the peace and quiet that we had once known.

I found a deep concern and consideration from both Chief Simmons and Capt. Boyd in regard to how we all feel about the now past problems on our block that I never realized existed until a short time ago.

The Albany Police Department is made up of an awful lot of good men and they truly deserve all of our support and respect. Maybe in this way we could make their jobs a little easier.

My sincere thanks again for a job well done.

MRS. PAUL YORK

The Editor
Dear Sir:

At the City Council meeting of May 23, as reported by the Albany Times, a letter from John Hattam was acknowledged protesting Mr. Turner's resignation and hoping that Albany voters would "not forget this injustice when the council members responsible are up for re-election."

I think it would be interesting for the voters of Albany to know that John Hattam is a resident of Kensington and the owner of a large piece of land in Albany near Terrace Park for which Retirement Inns tried to get a permit to build a 96-room dormitory-style old people's home early this year.

This plan was so bad that it was relatively easy for my neighbors and I to collect over two hundred local signatures on a petition against it, and when it was explained to an organized group of Albany senior citizens, they flatly opposed it.

The developer had been corresponding with the Public Works Department for a while and the plan was near the point of a use permit hearing when we accidentally learned about it, yet none of the people it would affect had even been told about its possible construction, including any of the members of the City Council.

Our accidental discovery of the plan fortunately gave us enough time to put together an effective public and legal campaign against it, and the developer withdrew in the face of community pressure.

I am sure that all the routine legal procedures were followed by the City in handling this matter. However, the fact that such an important development on one of our few remaining large pieces of open land was allowed to progress with such little sensitivity to our needs, makes me feel that we citizens must become more aware of what is actually happening in our City Offices.

Sincerely,
BONNIE CEDIEL
Albany

Top budget for Pleasanton fair

PLEASANTON — Boasting one of the highest budgets for entertainment attractions, the Directors of the Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton have approved a $100,000 for special attractions for their 1977 opening.

With the Fair scheduled to open Sunday, June 26 and extend through July 10, the following professional entertainment attractions have been confirmed for the annual 15-day event.

Leading off the parade of headline attractions, on Monday and Tuesday, June 27 and 28, are Clay Hart and Billy Flynn, formerly of the Lawrence Welk Show, supported by magician Chuck Jones with Ben Wrigley as Master of Ceremonies.

Popular singer Jose Feliciano will perform on Wednesday and Thursday, June 29 and 30 with Bob Hart as M.C., followed on Friday and Saturday by that unpredictable comedy team of Skiles Henderson returning after their smashing debut in 1975. Supporting Skiles and Henderson will be Jana and H.C. Bill Chaudet. Sunday and Monday, July 3 and 4, will bring the Tremples, a popular musical variety group to the Fair.

Headlining the 2nd week of the Fair will be popular country western singer, Freddie Fender, on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5 and 6, supported by the Dikn Sisters with Russ Fisher as M.C.

John Byner will thrill audiences on Thursday and Friday, supported by Jerry Murad's Harmonicats and Kenny Davis as M.C. Venoliquist Shari Lewis and Wabale Lamb Chop will entertain fairgoers on the closing nights of the Fair, July 9 and 10, supported by Jerry Murad and the Harmonicats with Dick Kerr as M.C. All professional shows are scheduled for 7 and 9 p.m. in the Amphitheatre, "under the stars."

Fairgoers will be provided other treats as the fair has arranged for a number of free attractions throughout the grounds. Music will abide in 1977 as the popular strolling bands, with Werner Hirtzel the "one man band" sharing the spotlight. Alternating daily will be Bob Mielke's Dixieland Band, (more commonly known as the Oakland A's Band), Dick Pless's German Band and Henry Clay's Banjo Band. Featured in the horticulture garden area will be Lou Jacklich and his magic accordion.

Special lawn shows and other free attractions for kids of all ages will be presented throughout the day, each day of the Fair.

The most unusual of which has to be Jonny Rivers' High Diving Aquanules, featuring trained acrobats diving into a tank of water from a 40' tower. Another new attraction is Dick Harward's Working Border Collies, who have been trained to work sheep and ducks, to the amusement of the spectators.

Returning for 1977 are the Mitchell Marionettes and Charlie Allen's Petting Zoo. The Antique Equipment exhibit will feature the completely restored 1905

Obituary Notices

Eugenie S. Mylett
Services were held Monday at Ellis-Olson Mortuary for Eugenie S. Mylett, 98, longtime Albany resident and former trapeze artist who died June 1 in a Mount View hospital.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Mylett toured America and Europe for 40 years with a circus and Bailey Circus as a member of the Silbon Troupe.

Her troupe originated many present-day aerial stunts, including the triple trapeze and the man-in-the-sack stunt, which is done blind-folded. It was the first act to use eight performers on a double trapeze.

Mrs. Mylett was the widow of the late Edward S. Mylett and is survived by many nieces and nephews. A mass was held at St. Catherine Church in Berkeley. Burial was in St. Joseph Cemetery, San Francisco.

Art festival participants are sought
RICHMOND — The Richmond Art Center is continuing its search for participants in a weekend art festival scheduled for late August or early September. A suitable site will be selected to accommodate booths for food, drinks, demonstrations, art displays, etc. There will be space set aside for the performing arts such as live music, dance or theatrical shows.

The Art Center hopes to combine the exposure to the "arts" with fun, entertainment, community involvement and a learning experience. This is also an excellent opportunity for an individual or organization to publicize their work.

"If you or your group have interest in joining the 'Art in the Park' event, the Richmond Art Center encourages and welcomes you to contact Jim Soult at 234-2387," a center spokesman said today.

Herrick vols undertaking fund-raisers
BERKELEY — Herrick Memorial Hospital volunteers are buzzing through preparations for two projects operating simultaneously for the benefit of Project 90 — the hospital's new building program.

"Unique Boutique" at 184 Shattuck Ave. has its grand opening today and will remain in business through June 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day offering fine dresses at good prices.

Celebrating Hink's 105th anniversary, Herrick's Guild members began attending the Big Wishing Well near the store's front entrance last Monday and will continue doing so through July 2 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Kids' tennis clinic starts on June 28
ALBANY — A tennis clinic for youngsters nine through 13 years of age is being offered by the Albany Park and Recreation Department.

Starting Tuesday, June 28, the clinic will run Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 4 p.m. through July 28 at Memorial Park. The instructor will be Jeff Rosemarin.

The fees for the clinic are $30 for Albany residents and $35 for non-residents. A beginners' class, running Tuesdays and Thursdays through July 14, begins next Tuesday at Memorial Park, also under Rosemarin's direction. The cost is $20 for Albany residents, $23 for others.

For information on either program, phone 644-8514.

Earthquake program
Contra Costa County emergency services director Will Perry will give a presentation on earthquakes at the annual meeting of the local chapter of the National Safety Council.

The presentation, which includes a movie, will be at noon on June 13 at Spenger's.

Teachers OK 'agency shop'
ALBANY — For the second time, Albany public school teachers have voted for an "agency shop," also known as "organizational security."

Under the new contract, all Albany teachers have three options — joining the Albany Teachers Association and paying regular dues, or paying a representation fee of $100 per year to the ATA, or else donating $100 per year to a charity of their choice, producing a receipt upon request.

The latest agency shop election results have 77 teachers in favor and 33 opposed, out of 150 teachers eligible to vote.

Earlier this year, the teachers voted the ATA as their sole bargaining agent in the upcoming collective bargaining negotiations.

That election was conducted by the state's Educational Employment Relations Board.

However, the original election approving an agency shop was conducted by the ATA and supervised by the local Parent Teachers Assoc.

Since the agency shop election was not conducted by EERB, it became legally impossible for the school district to deduct the ATA dues from the payroll.

The second agency shop election was conducted by EERB and this makes payroll deductions possible by the district, when approved by each employee.

Seasonal ban on use of hunting dogs
SACRAMENTO — The California Fish and Game Commission has announced that it intends to prohibit the use of dogs to pursue wildlife for up to five months during 1977-78 in major bear hunting areas of the state.

Objective of the regulations, suggested by the Department of Fish and Game, is to help reduce the illegal take and harassment of black bear and other wildlife while continuing to permit raccoon hunting in many areas.

Commissioners announced their so-called "tentative approvals" regarding 1977-78 hunting and trapping regulations for mammals and furbearers in Redding recently following a hearing on recommendations of the DFG, sportsmen's organizations and other groups and individuals.

The commission will take final action on the regulations May 27 in Sacramento. The new rules will go into effect July 1.

The tentative regulations would prohibit the use of dogs for pursuing wildlife from April 1 through Aug. 5 in the early bear season area and from April 1 through Aug. 31 in the late season area. Excepted would be the use of dogs in dog training and field trials.

Exploring myth of wild man
BERKELEY — Anthropological researcher Gordon Strasburgh will deliver a 90-minute presentation entitled "Introduction to the Wildman" June 9 at 1:30 p.m. in the Pauley Ballroom of the U.C. Berkeley Student Union.

Superb Productions is the sponsor of the free lecture which will discuss the "wildman" in all his historical incarnations, from Polyphemus, Pan, and Grendel to Arabian Nights to our own present-day Sasquatch and "Bigfoot."

Strasburgh is a contributor to professional journals on the subject of the wildman myth, a persistent and universal phenomenon. In his informal lectures he presents the anthropologically factual and popular notions concerning these beast-men, lending an historical dimension to the "Bigfoot" headlines and giving substance from his pieces in the "Northwest Anthropological Research Notes" to those appearing in the "National Enquirer."

The lecture is free to the public, and will be held in Pauley Ballroom on the third floor of the Student Union building, Bancroft at Telegraph, Berkeley. For further information readers may call Tom Lynch, 642-7477.

Feather River trips offered
OAKLAND — Openings remain on five of the week-long Feather River College trips for senior adults being co-sponsored this summer by the Alameda Adult School and Feather River College in Plumas County.

Each week a group leaves the Bay Area by bus on Sunday morning for Feather River College. Participants live in college apartments, eat in the dining hall and take scenic trips through the historic gold country conducted each day by college faculty members.

Other educational and entertaining programs will be held each evening. Groups will leave the Bay Area on July 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31. Total cost for the transportation, room and board ranges from $89. For further information, phone Laurie Malcomson evenings at 531-8376.

Albany Legion club loaded
"If we don't do well this season, it'll be because of lousy coaching," bluntly states Albany American Legion field boss Jim Scoggins. "We've put together a fine team."

The Albany club is two-deep at every position, with All-League players at nearly every starting spot. Albany tied for second in District Nine last season, but is the odds-on favorite this year in a loop comprised of Berkeley, Piedmont, two clubs from Oakland and one from Alameda.

The mound corp consists of Berkeley's Willie Hardwick, Fremont's Steve Stark, St. Mary's Rich Jyrinki and Albany's Curt Jefferson, Jeff Channess and Angelo Gilbert. Gilbert, however, will not join the club until the Senior League is finished.

Five All-Alameda County Athletic League players from Albany are in the starting lineup, including league-leading hitter John Luty. Luty's .542 batting average joins second baseman Ken Torres (.346), third baseman Greg Westphal (.250), shortstop Raul Ybarra (.383) and outfielder Jay Heeb (.467).

Joining Heeb and Luty in the outfield will be Andy Odiosio, a St. Mary's sophomore who ripped the ball at a 350 pace.

Handling the catching chores will be two All-leaguers, Jeff Ransom of Berkeley and Mike Ramirez of St. Mary's. Both those players will also be used in spot relief.

Ransom, who bypassed pitching for Berkeley this season after making All-Northern California as a sophomore, will concentrate on catching. "We'll just use him in situations where there's really a need," says Scoggins.

Another player to watch is Salesian's Steve Morales, a 433 hitter as a Catholic Athletic League all-star. Morales plays shortstop, but at the present is limited to action in non-league games.

"We're applying to the league to let him play," says Scoggins, "but right now we don't know what they'll say. It would be too bad if he can't play this season. Of course, we'll keep him on the roster for non-league games no matter what.

Other players who'll see action are St. Mary's Allan Smith and Tom Pearce and Albany's Mark Diani.

Scoggins expects the pitching load to be carried by Hardwick and Jyrinki.

"Hardwick can really hum the ball, and Jyrinki is a great junk pitcher," points out the coach. "Rich is one of the few young kids who can break off the curve-ball."

Mrs. Betten victor in scrabble club play
ALBANY — Isabelle Betten of Albany won 12 games to lead all participants in the Scrabble Players Club No. 41's first month sessions. Kensington's Margaret Morley was second overall.

The club holds sessions every Sunday at 1 p.m. in St. Alban's Episcopal Church, 1501 Washington Ave. Registration time is 12:30 p.m. and all are welcome. Each person should bring his or her own game and three egg timers. Each of three games takes one hour. Three minutes are allowed per play.

Games are played under the rules of the National Scrabble Crossword Game Players, Inc. of New York. Selchow and Righter are owners of the Scrabble trademark and the national association is a subsidiary of the owners.

Membership in the organization costs $5 a year and entitles one to receive the bi-monthly bulletin, Scrabble Players Newspaper, which gives information on all the clubs active across the United States as well as valuable playing tips.

Members also are eligible to receive Expert Points at any Scrabble Players Club and to attain several rankings.

Teachers OK 'agency shop'
ALBANY — For the second time, Albany public school teachers have voted for an "agency shop," also known as "organizational security."

Under the new contract, all Albany teachers have three options — joining the Albany Teachers Association and paying regular dues, or paying a representation fee of $100 per year to the ATA, or else donating $100 per year to a charity of their choice, producing a receipt upon request.

The latest agency shop election results have 77 teachers in favor and 33 opposed, out of 150 teachers eligible to vote.

Earlier this year, the teachers voted the ATA as their sole bargaining agent in the upcoming collective bargaining negotiations.

That election was conducted by the state's Educational Employment Relations Board.

However, the original election approving an agency shop was conducted by the ATA and supervised by the local Parent Teachers Assoc.

Since the agency shop election was not conducted by EERB, it became legally impossible for the school district to deduct the ATA dues from the payroll.

The second agency shop election was conducted by EERB and this makes payroll deductions possible by the district, when approved by each employee.

Seasonal ban on use of hunting dogs
SACRAMENTO — The California Fish and Game Commission has announced that it intends to prohibit the use of dogs to pursue wildlife for up to five months during 1977-78 in major bear hunting areas of the state.

Objective of the regulations, suggested by the Department of Fish and Game, is to help reduce the illegal take and harassment of black bear and other wildlife while continuing to permit raccoon hunting in many areas.

Commissioners announced their so-called "tentative approvals" regarding 1977-78 hunting and trapping regulations for mammals and furbearers in Redding recently following a hearing on recommendations of the DFG, sportsmen's organizations and other groups and individuals.

The commission will take final action on the regulations May 27 in Sacramento. The new rules will go into effect July 1.

The tentative regulations would prohibit the use of dogs for pursuing wildlife from April 1 through Aug. 5 in the early bear season area and from April 1 through Aug. 31 in the late season area. Excepted would be the use of dogs in dog training and field trials.

Earthquake program
Contra Costa County emergency services director Will Perry will give a presentation on earthquakes at the annual meeting of the local chapter of the National Safety Council.

The presentation, which includes a movie, will be at noon on June 13 at Spenger's.

BERKELEY — Anthropological researcher Gordon Strasburgh will deliver a 90-minute presentation entitled "Introduction to the Wildman" June 9 at 1:30 p.m. in the Pauley Ballroom of the U.C. Berkeley Student Union.

Superb Productions is the sponsor of the free lecture which will discuss the "wildman" in all his historical incarnations, from Polyphemus, Pan, and Grendel to Arabian Nights to our own present-day Sasquatch and "Bigfoot."

Strasburgh is a contributor to professional journals on the subject of the wildman myth, a persistent and universal phenomenon. In his informal lectures he presents the anthropologically factual and popular notions concerning these beast-men, lending an historical dimension to the "Bigfoot" headlines and giving substance from his pieces in the "Northwest Anthropological Research Notes" to those appearing in the "National Enquirer."

The lecture is free to the public, and will be held in Pauley Ballroom on the third floor of the Student Union building, Bancroft at Telegraph, Berkeley. For further information readers may call Tom Lynch, 642-7477.

The "Any Reason" Loan

$5,000 and up for homeowners

Money to go for practically anything. Now you can borrow on your home and use the money for practically anything — such as travel, a vacation home, education, consolidating old debts, new furniture, installing a swimming pool, or paying medical expenses.

Use the equity that's in your home. You may be surprised at the amount you can borrow on your home: take the market value of your home — what it would sell for today, and multiply that by 80%. From this figure, subtract the balance of all loans against your home. The remainder, if greater than $5,000, is the amount you can probably borrow with an "Any Reason" Loan.

11.50% Annual Percentage Rate (APR). The Mechanics Bank "Any Reason" Loan A.P.R. is 11.50%. The Annual Percentage Rate as stated here is quoted before any loan fees, where applicable. The table below lists some of your borrowing and repayment options.
